

Privacy Policy

This privacy policy sets out how The Emsworth Forum uses and protects any information that you give The Emsworth Forum when you use this website. The Emsworth Forum is committed to ensuring that your privacy is protected. Should we ask you to provide certain information by which you can be identified when using this website, then you can be assured that it will only be used in accordance with this privacy statement. The Emsworth Forum may change this policy from time to time by updating this page. You should check this page from time to time to ensure that you are happy with any changes. This policy is effective from 07 March 2011.

What we collect

We collect the following information under the Data Protection Act Rules and Regulations: See below Security

name and job title

contact information including email address

demographic information such as postcode, preferences and interests

What we do with the information we gather

We require this information to understand your needs and provide you with a better service, and in particular for the following reasons:

Voting and referendums conducted by The Emsworth Forum

Internal record keeping.

We may use the information to improve our products and services.

We may periodically send emails about referendums, news, offers or other information which we think you may find interesting using the email address which you have provided.

We will never disclose your information to a third party and information is intended solely for the purpose of voting and referendums and keeping you informed.